Rana Daggubati in talks to play Aurangzeb with Shahid Kapoor as Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj

Earlier in the year, there were reports that Shahid Kapoor will be playing the part of legendary warrior, Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj in Amit Rai's next directorial after OMG 2: Oh My God 2. Soon after, we informed our readers that the film will be produced by Wakaoo Films with Dil Raju and will go on floors by the end of 2024.

And now, the latest buzz in the industry is that Amit Rai and team are considering Rana Daggubati to play Aurangzeb in the period drama.

Rana Daggubati as Aurangzeb with Shahid Kapoor as Shivaji? According to industry sources, the early discussions have begun with Rana Daggubati and the makers will start full-fledged conversations once the entire logistics of shoot is in place.

"Rana is at the top of the list for Amit Rai for the part of Aurangzeb, however, the logistics need to fall in place for the actor to come on board the film. Shahid is also excited with the probable collaboration," revealed a source close to the development.

The source further informed that Amit Rai's film is based on one of the key chapters of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj's life. "It's a film based on Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, but not a biopic.

The makers plan to treat it as a thriller, as the backdrop of the feature film is more on the lines of a jail-break by Chhatrapathi Shivaji Maharaj in the era gone by," the source added.

Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj expected to go on floors in December, the script is locked and the pre-production work has already begun.

"The idea is to go on floors by the end of this year. The team intends to bring in a new flavour to the period genre with Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj. Shahid will also undergo intensive prep for the part and he considers this to be a once in lifetime opportunity," the source concluded.

Rana Daggubati has over the years proved his personality as an actor and one of his most memorable performances is that of Bhallaldeva in Bahubali. It will be interesting to see the flavour he brings in for the part of Aurangzeb.

Mumbai woman duped of over Rs 82 lakh in promise to meet Kartik Aaryan, fraudster arrested; Know what happened Kartik Aaryan, who is currently awaiting the release of his movie Chandu Champion, enjoys a massive fanbase. His fans can undoubtedly go to any extent just to meet or greet him and this emotion was recently exploited by a fraudster. In a shocking incident that has surfaced online, a Mumbai woman was duped of over Rs 82 lakhs in a promise to make her meet Kartik.

Details about the incident where a Kartik Aaryan was duped of lakhs A Times of India report revealed that a Goregaon resident named Aishwarya was scammed of Rs 82.75 lakhs in 2022 by a fraudster named Krishna Sharma. The 29-year-old culprit promised Aishwarya that he would make her meet Kartik Aaryan if she invested money in his supposed movie titled Love in London. The Amboli police who arrested Sharma revealed that he holds a history of several fraud cases filed against him of a similar nature in police stations of Amboli, Vakola, Mumbai Airport, Delhi's Connaught Place, and Chennai's E3 Teynampet.

An Amboli police officer detailed that between April 2022 and July 2023, the fraudster collected Rs 82.75 lakhs in installments saying that it was needed for production. Aishwarya further in her complaint stated, "He did not arrange the meet with the actor and siphoned off the money and vanished when I started demanding to return my money." After her complaint, a special team of cops was formed for investigation where they found out that Krishna was very recently arrested by a crime branch team in Bengaluru's Taj West End hotel. Not just he but three of his associates were also nabbed by a special team of Bengaluru police. The police officer further quoted, "He has formed the gang and duped many in a similar way in Chennai, Delhi, and Mumbai." Sharma has been pressed with the charges of cheating and continues to remain in judicial custody.

Is Sam Asghari banned from talking about Britney Spears on The Traitors?

Sam Asghari, better known as Britney Spears' most recent ex-husband, is beginning a new chapter as a contestant on Peacock's popular competition show, The Traitors. He'll compete against other well-known personalities such as Chrishell Stause from Selling Sunset, Tom Sandoval from Vanderpump Rules, Survivor star Rob 'Boston Rob' Mariano, and WWE wrestler Nikki Garcia. However, there is one major condition attached to his participation: he cannot discuss Britney Spears at all, as per TMZ. Britney Spears' mention is off-limits for Sam Asghari. According to TMZ, Sam Asghari is subject to a strict gag order regarding Britney Spears. He is not allowed to say anything negative or positive about her on the show. This directive is consistent with Spears' apparent desire to avoid any discussions involving her. The source stated, "Britney doesn't want a peep out of Sam about her, period." This restriction may appear stringent, but it reflects a mutual understanding, as Asghari did not publicly criticize Spears during their highly publicized divorce, which was finalized last month. In fact, Asghari has consistently spoken positively about Spears, even expressing support when asked about her memoir, The Woman in Me, last fall. Life after Britney: Sam's solo journey, With Britney Spears off the table, Sam Asghari will have to rely on his own charm and abilities to get through the competition. His recent social media activity indicates that he is eager to move forward with his life. Asghari recently posted a shirtless hiking photo on Instagram, indicating his desire to make a name for himself independently. A star-studded competition, The third season of The Traitors promises to be the most treacherous yet, with a diverse cast from various reality television backgrounds.

"If Mr. SRK plays the role of my love interest in my Biopic, I will do the Biopic Myself", reveals Sania Mirza on Netflix's TGRISKS

After watching the reel sports Jodi - Mr& Mrs. Mahi hit it out of the park in the last episode, this week on Netflix's The Great Indian Kapil Show, the audience can look forward to some real shots served by the proud medalists of our country - Mary Kom, Saina Nehwal, Sift Kaur Samra, and Sania Mirza. The 11th episode of the season promises to be filled with absolute candidness and some well-served hilarious moments from the guests. Being as witty as she is, Sania Mirza spills the beans on her biopic, revealing who she thinks could portray the role of her love interest and her. Asking Sania about her choice, Kapil Sharma questioned, "In the biopic on Mary Kom, Priyanka Chopra portrayed her role. Parineeti Chopra portrayed Saina's role in her biopic. Sania, if someone makes your biopic, who do you think can do justice to your role?" Being in her natural element, Sania Mirza replies, "Do they have any other sister? I think we have many good actresses in our country. Anyone is fine. Or shall I do it on my own?"

Sharing an old incident, Kapil Sharma reacts, "Shall I tell you something? I am sure you know about it. In an interview, Mr.

Shah Rukh Khan said if a biopic on Sania Mirza is made, I would like to play her love interest. Will you allow any other actress to play it or will you take up the role?" Jumping on the occasion, Sania Mirza says, "Now, I have to find a love interest first. But if Mr.

Shah Rukh Khan plays the role, I will take it up, and if Akshay Kumar plays the role, I will not miss it."

Tune in to The Great Indian Kapil Show for a non-stop dose of laughter every Saturday at 8 PM, only on Netflix!

Actors eagerly await the Monsoon in the scorching heat!

As the summer heat wave peaks, millions in India eagerly await the monsoon season, their dry land yearning for the first raindrops. This shared anticipation is not limited to the general public but extends to our beloved &TV artists. Ashutosh Kulkarni (Krishan Bihari Vajpayee, Atal), Sapna Sikarwar (Bimlesh, Happu Ki Ultan Paltan), and Vidisha Srivastava (Anita Bhabhi, BhabhiGhar Par Hai) all eagerly anticipate the start of the rainy season. Their excitement mirrors our own, as they, too, are seeking relief from the scorching heat. Ashutosh Kulkarni, who plays Krishan Bihari Vajpayee in Atal, shares, "I can't wait for the monsoon to arrive and get relief from the scorching heat. The rainy season is my favourite time of year, and I love planning adventures. I enjoy going on long drives with my family and friends to nearby hill stations and spending time amidst nature. I usually enjoy the season without praying for its early arrival, but after enduring these extreme heat waves, I pray for the season to come as soon as possible! (laughs). The sound of raindrops hitting the roof and the earthy smell of wet soil are so refreshing and calming. I can't wait to curl up with a good book and a warm cup of tea, listening to the rhythmic pitter-patter of rain outside.

The lush greenery that follows the rains always brings a sense of rejuvenation and renewal. I also look forward to relishing hot pakoras and a steaming cup of chai on cosy, rainy evenings. It's truly a magical time of year that brings a sense of tranquillity and joy to my heart." Sapna Sikarwar, essaying Bimlesh's role in Happu Ki Ultan Paltan, shares, "Like everyone else, I am eagerly waiting for the rain to come as soon as possible. Although I am not usually very fond of the rainy season, the rising temperatures have become unbearable. I am sure the raindrops will be a sigh of relief after so much heat.

I have planned an outing with my husband and daughter to Igatpuri, which looks stunning during the monsoon. Usually, I prefer to sit on my balcony with a cup of coffee."
