

Congress stages Fast-Satyagraha in Gwalior for Ambedkar statue

- Digvijay, Jitu Patwari, Singh and dozens of MLAs sat for 6 hours
- CM Yadav sharply criticized Congress's Satyagraha

Gwalior: In a powerful display of constitutional advocacy, prominent Congress leaders staged a six-hour ‘Upwas Satyagraha’ (fasting protest) in Gwalior yesterday. The demonstration, held in support of installing an Ambedkar statue on the High Court’s Gwalior Bench premises, saw the participation of Pradesh Congress Committee President Jitu Patwari, former Chief Minister Digvijaya Singh, Leader of Opposition Umang Singhar, and dozens of MLAs.

Addressing the media, Digvijaya Singh challenged the opposition to the statue, stating, “The question is whether Ambedkar’s statue should be installed or not. We say it should. Some Gwalior lawyers, citing a non-Constitution Assembly member B.N. Rao, claim he wrote the Constitution, not Babasaheb. Who is B.N. Rao?” Singh warned the “double-engine government” that failure to install the statue would expose their anti-Ambedkar stance, linking it to alleged past actions of the RSS. “They burned the Constitution; today it’s proven,” he declared.

Former Minister Sajjan Singh Verma condemned those “tarnishing Babasaheb’s Constitution,” criticizing BJP and RSS-aligned lawyers for opposing a judiciary-approved statue. “This is BJP’s true character – dark-hearted people,” he asserted.

PCC President Jitu Patwari sharply rebuked the BJP, suggesting they should observe “Black Day” for their “sins.” He highlighted Madhya Pradesh’s high rates of missing Dalit women and atrocities against Dalits, alongside alleged political horse-trading by the Modi government.

“If dissolving 12-13 governments and buying over 600 MLAs isn’t a Black Day, what is?” Patwari questioned.

CM Yadav slams Congress’s ‘Crocodile Tears’, cites past treatment

Bhopal: Chief Minister Dr. Mohan Yadav today sharply criticized the Congress party’s “Satyagraha” in Gwalior concerning Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, dismissing it as “crocodile tears.”

“Today, our Congress friends are shedding crocodile tears in Gwalior in the name of Dr. Ambedkar. This is the same Congress that inflicted numerous pains upon him during his lifetime,” CM Yadav stated.

He urged Congress members to abandon their fast and instead “remember the sins of their past and pray for forgiveness.” The Chief Minister’s comments come amidst a political stir over the proposed installation of an Ambedkar statue on the Gwalior High Court premises, an initiative that has seen the Congress stage a fasting protest.

Brothers accused of murdering elder sibling

Land dispute turns deadly

Satna: A land dispute escalated into a tragic fratricide on Monday night in Chorwari village, under the Singhpur police station jurisdiction. Police report that Jairam Kushwaha was allegedly beaten to death by his two younger brothers, Lalman and Mohan Kushwaha, and their respective sons, Ramsharan and Braj Kishore. The fatal assault occurred around 10 PM. According to information received, Jairam and his wife were sleeping in a temporary shelter in Kherwa when the four accused forcibly dragged Jairam to their old family home. There, they allegedly attacked him with sticks. Jairam’s son, Ravishankar, who was constructing a cattle shed nearby, was also reportedly assaulted when he tried to intervene. Jairam’s daughter-in-law, Heera Bai, and younger son, Ravikaran, who rushed to his aid, were also beaten. All injured individuals were initially taken to Nagod Hospital before being transferred to Satna District Hospital. Tragically, Jairam succumbed to his injuries around 8 AM on Tuesday morning while undergoing treatment. Family members confirm the ongoing land dispute over the very plot where Ravishankar was working. The Singhpur police have registered a case and initiated an investigation. After the post-mortem examination of the deceased, authorities are now actively searching for the absconding accused.

Double horror: Woman gang raped twice in 8 days

Police inaction questioned

Satna: In a shocking incident that has ignited outrage and raised serious questions about law and order in Maihar district, a woman was allegedly gang-raped twice within eight days in the Tala police station area. The audacity of the perpetrators was reportedly fueled by the police’s initial inaction after the first assault. The horrific ordeal began on June 15th when the woman, en route to Papra temple with her cousin, was forcibly abducted by half a dozen individuals. She was then brutally gang-raped, beaten, and robbed of her jewelry and cash, with the attackers threatening her life if she reported the crime. Despite her courage in filing a complaint, no significant action was taken by the police. This alleged negligence led to a second, equally horrific attack on June 23rd, when the same perpetrators again assaulted her.

Only after the case gained public attention did the police announce the arrest of two suspects, Arvind Loni and Pushpendra Kushwaha, with a manhunt launched for the remaining four identified and three unidentified accused. The police have registered a case under sections related to gang rape, robbery, and assault. This disturbing sequence of events highlights serious concerns regarding women’s safety and police accountability in the region.

Major drug bust on Indore’s VIP Road

Four peddlers caught before delivery

Rs 60 lakhs worth drugs and a car seized

Indore: In a major crackdown, the Crime Branch has arrested four drug traffickers red-handed before they could deliver a large consignment of MD drugs in the city. Acting on a tip-off, the team intercepted the suspects near Renbasera, ahead of Steel Square on VIP Road, on Wednesday afternoon.

The accused were found in possession of 57 grams of MD (Mephedrone) drugs and a Tata

Tiago car, with the seized drugs valued at over Rs 60 lakh. Officials say the traffickers had sourced the narcotics at lower prices from other cities and were preparing for distribution in Indore. According to ADCP Rajesh Dandotiya, the suspects were nabbed during a targeted operation aimed at curbing the growing menace of drug trafficking. The arrested individuals have been identified as Sudhir Chauhan (25) from Ujjain, Dilip alias Dulhe Singh (34) and Dule Singh Rajput (43) from Agar district, and Dharmendra Singh Sisodia (29) from Jhalawar, Rajasthan.

Initial interrogations revealed that all four are drug users themselves and were attempting to build a local supply network. Police have launched deeper investigations to uncover the extent of their connections and supply chain.

The accused will be taken into police remand for further questioning to track their associates and dismantle the wider network. Authorities reaffirmed their commitment to eradicating the city’s drug problem through sustained and covert intelligence operations.

Jabalpur man dupes victims with ‘Tantric Ritual’ scam

Hands out fake ‘Children Bank’ notes

Jabalpur:In a bizarre and brazen scam, a fraudster in Jabalpur lured people with the promise of multiplying their money sixfold through tantric rituals, only to hand over bundles of fake notes — some even labeled “Children Bank of India.” The scam came to light in Gohalpur police station limits after a vigilant victim, Aniket Rai, exposed the fraud. Aniket was contacted by Vinay alias Vinnu Rahangdale, a resident of Lalbarra, Balaghat, who claimed he could use occult rituals to magically increase cash four to six times. Tempted by the offer, Aniket gave him Rs 15,000 in real currency. Vinay performed a brief “ritual,” then handed Aniket a bundle supposedly containing Rs 75,000. But when Aniket opened it, he discovered a scam — while the top and bottom notes were genuine Rs 500 bills, the middle stack contained counterfeit “Churan” notes from a toy currency set. Quick to react, Aniket caught the conman and handed him over to the police. Officials recovered Rs 75,000 in fake notes, and Vinay was arrested. According to Station In-Charge Ritesh Pandey, Vinay had duped multiple victims with similar schemes. Police are now interrogating him to uncover the full extent of the racket. This case highlights how superstition and greed are being exploited in the most deceptive ways — and how awareness can stop conmen in their tracks.

Major fraud exposed in MP Police constable recruitment

One arrested for securing job by biometric tampering

Shahdol: Police have uncovered a major fraud in the Madhya Pradesh Police Constable Recruitment examination. A man named Manish Gurjar has been arrested for securing the constable job by manipulating biometric data and having someone else appear for the exam in his place.

The accused has been taken into police remand for detailed interrogation. According to police sources, the fraud came to light during document verification of selected candidate Manish Gurjar, a resident of village Cheemak in Dabra tehsil, Gwalior district. A mismatch was found in the biometric details linked to his Aadhaar card. Upon further investigation, it was confirmed that someone else had appeared for the recruitment exam using forged biometrics, while Manish was later appointed as a constable using that false identity.

The Shahdol police conducted a detailed comparison of photographs, fingerprints, documents, and handwriting, which conclusively proved that two different individuals were involved — one who gave the exam and another who assumed the job. The person who wrote the exam had updated the Aadhaar biometrics to match his own fingerprint, enabling him to impersonate Manish Gurjar.

Police focusing on uncovering the entire network: ASP

Additional Superintendent of Police Abhishek Diwan confirmed the arrest and stated that the police are now focusing on uncovering the entire network behind the fraud. They suspect a larger conspiracy involving multiple individuals. The investigation is ongoing, and more arrests may follow as police dig deeper into the racket.

Ban on celebratory firing near Gwalior Air Force Station

Gwalior: District Magistrate Ruchika Chauhan has issued a strict prohibitory order banning celebratory firing across the entire revenue area of Gwalior district, including within a one-kilometer radius of the Air Force Station Maharajpura. This step has been taken under Section 163 of the Indian Civil Defense Institution Code, 2023, to ensure the safety of military and civilian aircraft, personnel, and citizens.

The decision follows a recent Air Field Management Committee meeting, where the Commanding Officer of the Air Force Station reported the discovery of fired bullets and metal fragments in the aircraft operation zone. Since the Air Force Station is situated near residential areas, such materials pose a serious threat to human life, aircraft, and military equipment.

Masked robbers attack siblings-in-law

Flee with valuables

Dabra, Gwalior: In a daring late-night robbery that underscores growing concerns about criminal impunity, a woman and her brother-in-law were accosted at gunpoint by three masked assailants in Dabra, Gwalior district. The brazen thieves made off with a significant haul of gold and silver jewelry, leaving the victims shaken. The incident occurred as Sapna Baghel and her brother-in-law, Chhotu Baghel, residents of Gohinda village, were traveling by motorcycle. According to reports, three masked individuals on an Apache motorcycle ambushed them, brandishing weapons and blocking their path. The robbers then proceeded to violently assault them before stripping Sapna of her ornaments. The stolen items reportedly include a mangalsutra, a gold necklace, gold ‘bijasan’ (a type of ornament), an ‘Om’ pendant, a silver waist-band (‘kardhani’), earrings (‘jhumki’), toe rings (‘bichhiya’), and silver anklets. After the terrifying ordeal, the culprits fled the scene.

Lovekush Baghel, who filed the complaint, recounted the harrowing experience, stating that the masked men on the Apache bike not only displayed weapons but also physically assaulted them before snatching the jewelry. Police have registered a case and launched an investigation to apprehend the perpetrators. This incident highlights a worrying trend of increasing crime in the region, prompting calls for enhanced security measures.

Drunk teacher creates scene in front of students, suspended

Dhar: A female teacher in Dhar district has been suspended after allegedly arriving at a government primary school in an intoxicated state and misbehaving with the staff. The incident occurred on June 23 in Singhana village under the Manawar development block, about 50 km from the district headquarters. A video of the teacher’s unruly behavior surfaced on social media, prompting swift action from the authorities.

Teacher misbehaved with laborers and school staff: Assistant Commissioner of the Tribal Education Department, Narotam Varkade, confirmed the suspension and stated that a departmental inquiry is underway. He said the teacher, Kavita Koche, created a scene in front of students and misbehaved with laborers and school staff. Her conduct not only brought disrepute to the institution but also negatively impacted the students.

This is reportedly the first such case in the district where a teacher has caused a public disturbance at school under the influence of alcohol. Officials said that there have been earlier complaints about teachers consuming alcohol, but none as severe. Following the viral video, the district administration instructed Manawar Block Resource Coordinator (BRC) Kishore Kumar to investigate the matter. A joint team comprising the Block Education Officer and BRC was formed. Based on their findings, the teacher was suspended, and further disciplinary action will be taken after the departmental inquiry concludes.

NCC cadets trained in disaster management at SATI College camp in Vidisha

Vidisha: A one-day disaster management training camp was organized by SDERF on Wednesday at Dr. Kailash Satyarthi Auditorium, SATI College. The event saw active participation from 250 NCC cadets representing various educational institutions.

The primary objective of the camp was to equip young cadets with essential skills for responding swiftly and effectively during disasters. The training covered safety measures and response protocols for natural and man-made calamities such as earthquakes, floods, fires, lightning strikes, road accidents, and snakebites.

Experts from SDERF and the Home Guard conducted practical sessions on first aid, fire safety, emergency communication, and search-and-rescue operations. A mock drill was also held to demonstrate the real-time application of these techniques.

District Commandant Mayank Kumar Jain highlighted the significance of such training, emphasizing that NCC cadets, as the nation’s future, can play a crucial role in emergency response.

Colonel Vikas Gupta of NCC 14 Battalion extended his gratitude to the SDERF team, calling the training highly valuable and motivating. Trainees included Rashmi Dubey, Lakshmi Narayan Vishwakarma, Abhishek Yadav, Rishabh, Rajendra, and Madhav.
