and thoroughly enjoy the new season!" Judged by the popular trio Shilpa Shetty, Geeta Kapur, and Marzi Pestonji, the upcoming season promises high-energy performances, unique dance styles, and unstoppable passion.

The Bhootnii OTT Release Date and Final Box Office: When and where to watch Sanjay Dutt, Mouni Roy's horror-comedy

The Bhootnii, starring Sanjay Dutt, Mouni Roy, Palak Tiwari, Sunny Singh, Aashif Khan, and others, is all set to mark its digital debut. The horror-comedy, directed by Sidhaant Sachdev, was not well received by the audience during its theatrical run, and it bombed at the box office. However, one can expect a better reception on the OTT platform. When and where to watch The Bhootnii on OTT? The Sanjay Dutt starrer is officially announced to stream on Zee5 from July 18 onwards. The streaming platform shared the trailer of the movie along with its release date. The caption reads, "Jab pyaar ki khoj mein ek bhootnii mil jaaye, toh shuru hoga a roller-coaster of chaos, heartbreaks and lots of ghosthunting! Trailer out now! #TheBhootnii premieres on 18th July, 8 pm, on #ZEE5 & #ZEEcinema #TheBhootnii-iOnZEE5." Backed by Sanjay Dutt, Maanayata Dutt, Deepak Mukut, and Hunar Mukut, The Bhootnii was earlier titled The Virgin Tree; however, later the title was changed. The horror-comedy has a runtime of 2 hours and 10 minutes. The Bhootnii Box Office: Wrapped theatrical run at Rs 5.50 crore. Regarding its box office performance, The Bhootnii has taken in an opening of just Rs 50 lakh. It further failed to gain any solid traction and wrapped its opening week at Rs 3 crore. Furthermore, the movie ended its entire theatrical run with a net collection of just Rs 5.50 crore at the Indian box office, becoming a major disaster. One of the primary reasons behind its disastrous box office run was its direct box office clash with Raid 2. Had the movie been released on a better date, it could have gained some traction.

"My Father is My Best Friend": Abhishek Bachchan Opens Up During Bhopal Visit for ZEE5's Kaalidhar Laapata

Bhopal welcomed a heartfelt reunion as Abhishek Bachchan, acclaimed director Madhumita, and Child Artist Daivik Bhagela returned to Bhopal to promote their upcoming ZEE5 original film, Kaalidhar Laapata. With the city forming an emotional and visual core of the film, the visit felt less like a promotion and more like a homecoming. "I signed the film without even hearing the entire narration. That's how strongly the story spoke to me. It was simple, delicate, and moved me deeply," shared Abhishek. The film explores the journey of a man navigating memory loss and abandonment, only to find unexpected companionship in a spirited young boy. Through their bond, forgotten dreams are revived, and a quiet kind of healing unfolds. For Abhishek, Bhopal holds personal meaning. Having spent summers at his maternal grandmother's home here, he described the city as a space filled with warmth, calm, and nostalgia. "Bhopal always feels like home," he said.

For young Daivik, it was more than just a debut. Having grown up on the city's theatre stages, sharing the screen with Abhishek Bachchan in his own city was a dream realised. "It's magical to premiere my first film in the place where I found my voice," he shared. In a striking moment at Upper Lake, the trio lit hundreds of diyas that slowly floated into a glowing formation spelling out the film's title. The gesture, serene and symbolic, mirrored the film's emotional essence light emerging from loss, connection born of chaos. Director Madhumita described Kaalidhar Laapata as a gentle yet powerful exploration of second chances. "It's about being forgotten, and then finding your way back to yourself, to love, to life," she said.
