journements while Rajya Sabha one.

Lok Sabha was first adjourned up to 2pm shortly after it assembled for the day. After the Lok Sabha convened at 2 PM, Presiding Officer Krishna Prasad Tenneti called for the proceedings of the House. However, the Opposition members trooped into the Well of the House shouting slogans like "SIR pe charcha ho (hold discussion on SIR), Loktantra ki hatya band karo (Stop murder of democracy), SIR wapas lo (withdraw SIR).

Some members were even holding placards with slogans written on them.

Objecting to their actions, the Presiding Officer reiterated, "We've repeatedly told you not to bring placards or disrupt the House in this manner. You are not following the rules. I once again urge you to return to your seats."

Tenneti said, "The Representation of Scheduled Tribes in Assembly Constituencies of the State of Goa Bill, 2024, has been pending for a long time. Twice I have requested for a discussion".

Bengaluru court convicts Prajwal Revanna in rape case

Bengaluru (UNI)

A trial court in Bengaluru today convicted suspended Janata Dal (Secular) leader Prajwal Revanna in a high-profile rape case involving his former domestic worker.

The verdict was delivered by Additional City Civil and Sessions Judge Santhosh Gajanan Bhat, with the court set to pronounce the sentence tomorrow.

The case, which sparked massive public outrage, revolves around allegations that Revanna repeatedly raped his maid at a farmhouse owned by his family during the COVID-19 lockdown in 2021.

The victim claimed that she was coerced into silence as Revanna had recorded the assaults and used the videos to threaten her. It was only after visuals of similar acts involving multiple women surfaced online in 2024 that she came forward with her complaint. Over 2,900 explicit videos were allegedly circulated on social media platforms, prompting the registration of four separate cases against him.

Mamata targets BJP turf, plans protest in N-Bengal over harassment of Bengalis

Kolkata (UNI)

West Bengal chief minister Mamata Banerjee is set to intensify her party's protest campaign by turning attention to North Bengal, a region considered a stronghold of the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) since the 2019 Lok Sabha elections.

The upcoming rally, led by Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee and likely to be held between August 17 and 21, will be the third in a series organised by the Trinamool Congress (TMC), aimed at highlighting the alleged harassment of Bengali-speaking people in BJP-governed states across India.

According to sources within the state Cabinet, Siliguri—North Bengal's key urban center in Darjeeling district—is the likely venue for the third protest.

The campaign began with a rally in Bolpur-Santiniketan, Birbhum district, a location chosen for its deep cultural ties to Bengali heritage and its association with Rabindranath Tagore and Visva Bharati University. The second rally is slated for August 6 in Jhargram, a tribal-dominated district with historical significance due to the Santhal rebellion against British colonial rule in the 1920s. "Both Bolpur and Jhargram are in South Bengal. The Chief Minister now wishes to hold the third rally in North Bengal to balance regional representation," said a senior Cabinet member told UNI on condition of anonymity.

Political analysts suggest that while the first two venues were selected for their cultural and historical resonance, the choice of Siliguri—or any town in North Bengal—is a strategic move to challenge the BJP on its turf.

Prasad Maurya slams Yogi govt

Lucknow (UNI)

Former Uttar Pradesh minister and Apni Janata Party (AJP) president Swami Prasad Maurya, on Friday, criticized the Yogi Adityanath-led government, urging it to operate within democratic norms rather than through authoritarian means.

Speaking to the media at his residence here on Friday, he said, "The government should abandon dictatorship and work within the framework of democracy."

He asserted that his party has the strength to confront anti-people policies: "Whenever the BJP government takes any anti-people decision, the Apni Janata Party has the full strength to push it onto the back foot through protests on the streets."

Highlighting the need for governance centered on public welfare, he remarked, "the government is formed for the welfare of the people and should formulate schemes for public welfare."

He further alleged, "whether it's a double-engine government or not, it follows undemocratic and unconstitutional methods everywhere and attempts to suppress democracy."

Union Territories," Union Minister of State for Health and Family Welfare, Prataprao Jadhav, shared these details in a written reply to the Lok Sabha.

The Ministry also highlighted the 'Free Diagnostics Service Initiative' (FDSI) launched under the National Health Mission in 2015 to provide free pathological and radiological diagnostic services at all levels of public health facilities. The initiative includes 14 tests at Sub Centres and 63 tests at Primary Health Centres.

The AAMs, set up by strengthening Sub Health Centres (SHCs) and Primary Health Centres (PHCs), provide comprehensive primary healthcare, encompassing preventive, promotive, rehabilitative, and curative services.
