

Netizens react to Baseer Ali and Nehal Chudasama's love angle in Bigg Boss 19 house

Bigg Boss 19, hosted by Salman Khan, is heating up as a potential love angle unfolds between housemates Nehal Chudasama and Baseer Ali. A recent promo shows the duo spending time together, with Nehal resting her head on Baseer's lap, prompting reactions from both housemates and fans. The video caption reads, "Ghar mein shuru huye naye love angle pe gharwale de rahe hain apne opinions, kya unki baat mein hai dum?"

Inside the house, opinions are divided. Kunicka Sadanand encourages them, saying, "I'm telling you guys, enjoy these moments, aage ka socho mat." Farrhana Bhatt, however, is focused on the game, telling Gaurav Khanna, "Mujhe survival ke liye love angle khelne ki zaroorat nahi hai." Farrhana adds, "Mujhe Nehal ke side se real lagta hai, but Baseer ka mujhe nahi pata," while Abhishek Bajaj suggests both might be performing for the cameras: "Dono ka mujhe pata hai, dono perform kar rahe hain."

Here's how fans are reacting. Fans have taken to social media to share their thoughts on the Nehal-Baseer connection. Many are supportive, calling them the perfect match, while others are skeptical, questioning the authenticity of the romance. Some humorous reactions have also gone viral, with viewers joking about strategy and survival in the house.

Fans wrote, "Eviction ke darr se ander ka chapri lover bahar aagya hai," while another joked, "Dono Ko Pata Chal Gaya Hai Ki Only Love Lapata Can Save Them Now." Some found the pair's connection amusing, tweeting, "A funny thought just came to my mind ke Nehal thinks Baseer likes her tooo," while others supported the duo, saying, "Actually Baseer and Nehal are perfect couple !!!" At the same time, skeptics argued, "I don't think Nehal & Baseer's love angle is real."

In the house, Baseer opened up about his feelings, saying, "Jab mai ek aise insan ke sath hota hu jo meri tarah hai, shayad thoda toxic hai, thoda extra hai, thoda crazy hai, then I know ki ye balance hai." Gaurav and Farrhana also discussed the potential impact, with Gaurav noting, "Main isko bol raha tha ki tum log ko ek hafte tak continue karni chahiye thi acting."

&TV Artists Shared Their Deep Emotional Connection with Chhath Puja!

Chhath Puja, one of the most sacred festivals celebrated with immense devotion across various parts of North India, holds a special place in the hearts of many. The festival stands as a symbol of purity, gratitude, and deep faith in the Sun God also known as Chhathi Maiya. Reflecting on their fond memories and personal connection with this divine celebration, &TV's artists including Richa Soni (Reeta, Gharwali Pedwali) and Saanand Verma (Dr. Anokhelal Saxena, Bhabiji Ghar Par Hai) shared their heartfelt thoughts on the spiritual significance of Chhath Puja.

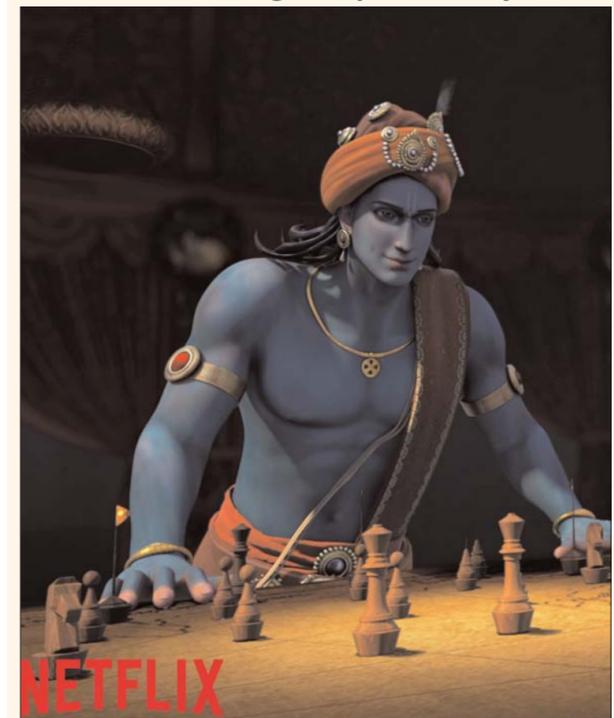

Richa Soni aka Reeta from the upcoming show GharwaliPedwali shares, "Chhath Puja has always held a very special place in my heart. I have grown up watching my mother and aunts perform the rituals with utmost devotion, from preparing Thekua to offering arghya to the setting and rising sun. The atmosphere during Chhath is truly divine, filled with purity, discipline, and gratitude. As children, we eagerly waited for the moment after arghya when we would receive the prasad. My absolute favourites have always been the fruits offered during the Puja - especially Gagar, sugarcane, and coconut."

Even today, being away from home, I try to recreate that feeling by observing small rituals and reliving those moments. Chhath Puja is an emotion that connects me deeply to my roots, my faith, and my family."

Saanand Verma aka Dr. Anokhelal Saxena from Bhabiji Ghar Par Hai shares, "I believe Chhath Puja is the purest festival in the world. I have not seen anything as sacred as this. During this festival, even people known for mischief transform into better versions of themselves, they help the poor, clean the surroundings, and participate in purifying the rivers."

Megha, Gauri and Anandita share how they celebrated Diwali

As the festival of lights has been celebrated with enthusiasm, Sun Neo's actress Megha Ray from Divya Prem: Pyaar Aur Rahasya Ki Kahani, Gauri Shelgaonkar from Prathaon Ki Odhe Chunri: Beendani, and Anandita Sahoo from Satyaa Sachee — opened up about their childhood memories and also how they celebrated Diwali this year.

Megha Ray who plays Divya in Divya Prem: Pyaar Aur Rahasya Ki Kahani, shares, "After Navratri, there's always that special excitement in the air; as if everyone is waiting for Diwali to arrive."

Megha says she doesn't enjoy bursting firecrackers because she has pets at home, and she knows how scared animals and birds get because of the noise.

This year, she celebrated Diwali with her family as well as with her new family on the sets of Divya Prem: Pyaar Aur Rahasya Ki Kahani.

Gauri Shelgaonkar who plays Ghevar in Prathaon Ki Odhe Chunri: Beendani, shared, "Diwali has always been one of my favourite times of the year."

This year, Gauri took a couple of days off from shooting Prathaon Ki Odhe Chunri: Beendani to go home and spend time with her family. She enjoyed Diwali with them, cherishing the food, colors, and all the joyful moments together.

Anandita Sahoo, who plays Satyaa in 'Satyaa Sachee', shared, "Some memories never fade, and my childhood Diwali in Odisha is one of them."

This year Anandita celebrated Diwali in a simple, traditional way.

COLORS announces its new family drama 'Seher Hone Ko Hai' starring Parth Samthaan, Mahhi Vij & Rishita Kothari

When the first rays of dawn kiss the earth, they carry with them the light of prayers, the fragrance of hope, and the promise of new beginnings. Embracing this spirit of renewal, COLORS announces its upcoming family drama, Seher Hone Ko Hai - a captivating saga set against the soulful backdrop of Lucknow. Starring promising newcomer Rishita Kothari as Seher, the stunning MahhiVij as her mother Kausar in her much-awaited return to fiction, and television sensation ParthSamthaan as Mahid, this drama beautifully celebrates the richness of Muslim culture while offering viewers a fresh, immersive narrative filled with layered emotions. The show follows the journey of Kausar, a mother determined to see her daughter, Seher, educated, liberated, and free from the very societal shackles that once bound her.

But will the world let Seher break free?

On essaying the role of Mahid in 'Seher Hone Ko Hai', Parth says,

"Mahid is a character unlike any I've played before. Its layered, intense, and full of surprises. What excites me most is the journey he takes and the new shades I get to explore as an actor. I'm also thrilled to share the screen with the talented Rishita Kothari and MahhiVij, it's such an interesting collaboration. I truly believe viewers are in for something fresh and captivating, and I can't wait for them to experience Mahid's story. The audiences have been so loving and supportive of my choices, and I want to give them something memorable through Mahid's character."

Excited about her comeback on television, MahhiVij shares, "Returning to fiction after nearly a decade feels surreal, and what better way than to play Kausar, a mother who lives to provide her daughter a bright future."

Dosti aur Drama Ka Double Dose!

In &TV's Happu Ki Ultan Paltan and Bhabiji Ghar Par Hai's upcoming tracks, get ready for a week full of laughter, confusion, and cultural chaos that will keep you glued to your seats! About Happu Ki Ultan Paltan, Geetanjali Mishra aka Rajesh shares, "Happu (Yogesh Tripathi) is frustrated as the Commissioner (Kishore Bhanushali) once again takes credit for his bravery. Determined to prove his worth, Happu decides that next time, he'll report directly to the DIG. Soon after, he overhears in a bar that the Pinky Gang is planning a bank robbery. Excited to make a big catch, he ropes in Benny (Vishwanath Chatterjee) for help. However, when Rajesh overhears Happu describing the robbery plan, she misunderstands that he's plotting to rob a bank himself! Panicked, she confides in Amma (Himani Shivpuri), who recalls a baba's prediction that Rajesh might end up in jail due to Happu's mistake. Meanwhile, Hritik, Chamchi, and Ranbir also overhear the conversation and hatch their own plan to 'catch' their father before anyone else does and earn some money out of it. But as everyone, including the real Pinky Gang, lands up at the bank, chaos breaks loose! Will Happu manage to clear the confusion or lose his glory once again?"

About Bhabiji Ghar Par Hai, Shubhangi Atraka Angoori Bhabhi shares, "Modern Colony is abuzz with excitement as Vibhuti (Aasif Sheikh) and Prem (Vishwanath Soni), with the MLA's support, plan to stage a Romeo Juliet play. Initially not interested, Anita (Vidisha Srivastava) and Tiwari (Rohitashv Gour) jump in after learning about the generous funding. The twist? Vibhuti and Angoori perform their part in English, while Anita and Tiwari take it up in Bhojpuri! However, chaos begins when Niyam Kumar, a representative of Swadeshi Sanskriti Sanstha, objects to the play and declares that Vibhuti and Angoori cannot perform together unless they tie a rakhi first. What follows is a rollercoaster of hilarious hurdles, witty tricks, and cultural drama. Will the much-awaited Romeo-Juliet play finally happen, or will sanskriti win over stagecraft this time?"
