

NADI ASTROLOGY and other prediction techniques

What is Nadi Astrology

Today I want to talk about Nadi astrology. What is Nadi astrology? How you should learn it? How you should use it? There is too much confusion surrounding Nadi Astrology now-a-days. Bhrgu Nadi, Dhruva Nadi, Sapta Rishi Nadi, Chandra Kala Nadi, Nandi Nadi etc. are the terms that you might have already heard. Some people think it as a system of astrology like Jaimini or Tajik. Some people will say that Nadi Astrology is predictions written on leaf. Others will say that Nadi astrology about thumb impression and prediction based on that. This association of Nadi Astrology with Nadi leaves and thumb impressions is more common in Southern part of India. So What exactly is Nadi astrology then?

Let me explain you in the language that you understand. This is very important for astrologers and astrology students, so listen carefully. Nadi astrology is not a system of astrology. When somebody calls it a system of astrology, he is incorrect. Nadi Astrology is a process, a batch process of writing predictions for large number of people in advance. This process of Nadi Astrology has three roles involved - A Nadi Writer, A Nadi Reader and a consultee/ client. Apart from these three roles Nadi has a techniques to for indexing those large number of horoscopes. This indexing technique is used later to find out exact note or prediction for the client. Indexing techniques of Nadi Astrology is miraculous as those can index millions of horoscopes without using software of computer. Amazing.

Coming back to the roles. Nadi Writers writes predictions of large number of people in advance and Nadi Reader reads-out those predictions for the client when client visits him. These two processes happens at different period of time. Some of the Nadis are written hundred years back and some are written couples of hundred year back. Some may be written even thousands of years back. who knows.

Anyways, Nadi Writer writes the large number of horoscopes and predictions in advance. Different Nadis use different techniques for classification and indexing of these large number of horoscopes. Some Nadis like Agastya Nadi classifies those horoscopes based on thumb impression. Some Nadies like Chandra Kala Nadi uses Nadi Amsa for indexing and classification. Some Nadies like Bhrgu Nadi use year of birth for indexing. Some Nadis uses shadow size of the native for indexing. So various Nadis use various techniques for indexing and classification. Sometimes Nadis do also use composite techniques and combine multiple methods to search quickly.

Different Nadis also use different astrological systems for predictions. As Nadi Writers mostly writes predictions without giving much of astrology information and hence it is difficult to find out which system is being used. Different Nadis uses different systems, some are primarily transit based, some are Jaimini based, some are Parashari based and so on. For most of the Nadis, though, knowledge of system is unavailable as what is left to us is just written predictions. For example, Chandra Kala Nadi uses Parashari and Jaimini systems primarily for writing those predictions.

OK, so now you understand that Nadi is not a system but a process. A process where Nadi writers writes predictions for large number of people in advance in an indexed fashion. Nadi Writer is actually the one who knows astrology. The job of Nadi Writer ends after writing and indexing those predictions. After that job of Nadi Readers starts. When a client visit to Nadi Reader, Nadi Readers uses the indexing techniques to find out the right predictions and reads it out in front of the client. Nadi Readers is generally not an astrologer, he just reads out what is already written.

So suppose somebody says that he is using Nadi Astrology in his predictions, it is technically incorrect. He should say that I use "principles" of "Brigu Nadi" or "principles" of "Agasthya Nadi" in my predictions. There cannot be any system called Nadi Astrology unless one doesn't understand the real terminology. For example, Satya Jatakam is based on principles of Dhruva Nadi. So if you have to learn principles that Dhruva Nadi writer uses, you can go through Satya Jatakam or Jataka Satya-acharya written by Sage Satya-acharya.

Before I close this, I want to caution about certain Nadis. There is a type of Nadi which doesn't use astrology at all. This is called Mantra Nadi. Mantra Nadi uses some siddhis or psychic power for predictions. These Nadis, as do not use astrology and cannot predict future very accurately. But those Nadis can predict present and past very accurately. Generally people associated with such Nadis pretend like Nadi Readers and also use Nadi leafs to look like Nadi Reader but he is actually using those low-level psychic power for predictions. One should stay away from Such Nadis.

I hope you understand now what is Nadi and I hope you find this video useful.

Weekly Horoscope: March 1st to 7th March 2026

The old saying goes that March comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb, and that is certainly true with this week's astrology. There's so much happening! On the 2nd, action planet Mars leaves stubborn Aquarius for empathetic Pisces, bringing up the softer, more compassionate side of conflicts. Then on the 3rd, there's a lunar eclipse—or a super potent full moon—in Virgo. Full moons usually align with culminations, but this one is for endings. What narratives are you shedding this week?

Aries
How are you feeling in your body? The lunar eclipse on the 3rd sheds some light on a health struggle, finally giving you answers. With your ruling planet Mars moving into Pisces and your unconscious sector, you're entering a period where rest must take priority. What work needs to be done behind the scenes so that you can come back better than ever later this spring?

Libra
The lunar eclipse in Virgo on the 3rd is your cue to take a step back, Libra. If you're dealing with exhaustion or disappointment, there's never been a better time to take a break. Your ruling planet Venus moves into Aries and your relationship sector on the 6th making it extra important to prioritize the people who will also prioritize you.

Taurus
The week begins with your friends encouraging you to make some bold changes to your appearance. Make sure you do so before the 6th though when your ruling planet Venus enters Aries and you no longer want to be perceived. Your priorities around dating, creativity or growing your family are also becoming clear this week, as the lunar eclipse on the 3rd pushes you to make a decision.

Scorpio
Your ruling planet Mars enters Pisces and your romance sector on the 2nd bringing some heat or conflict to your dating and sex life. Maybe you're introducing a casual fling to your friends (and it doesn't go as planned). The lunar eclipse in Virgo on the 3rd is for making choices about who you're spending your time with.

Gemini
Mercury retrograde has both pushed you into the spotlight and made things feel extra chaotic at work. You can look forward to a break this weekend, but until then, you have to power through to the deadline. The lunar eclipse in Virgo on the 3rd sheds light on how much you're lacking any work-life balance right now.

Sagittarius
The investment you've put into home and family life over the past month finally feels like it's paying off this week. But at the same time, the lunar eclipse in Virgo on the 3rd sheds light on issues you've been having at work or with your boss. This eclipse forces you to take a look at your responsibilities and make some hard decisions.

Cancer
As big dreams come together this week, your personal life feels like it's falling apart. The people you feel should be happiest for you at this moment might actually be bringing you down. The lunar eclipse in Virgo on the 3rd reveals another bout of friend or sibling drama that you thought was left behind in September 2025.

Capricorn
Mercury retrograde has your day to day life in a state of chaos. While you're stuck in traffic or put on hold, you have time to daydream about your next big adventure. The lunar eclipse in Virgo on the 3rd sheds light on something important to you: travel and expanding your mind. It's time to make a decision about where you want to go.

Leo
Things might feel heavy this week as you process a big loss or something that fell through the cracks because it was out of your control. The lunar eclipse in Virgo on the 3rd finds you making a choice around your money and finances. This decision may feel limiting now, but it will open things up for you in the future.

Aquarius
The lunar eclipse in Virgo on the 3rd reveals the core of a difficult emotional or financial issue. Whether you're having a breakthrough in couple's therapy or are finally paying last year's tax bill, what's happening is heavy but also a relief. Pay attention to your spending this week as you may want to emotionally indulge.

Virgo
Your ruling planet Mercury is retrograde, meaning that you're having a much harder time than usual keeping your cool. This retrograde is all about revising contracts, going back on agreements and questioning dynamics in your closest connections. The lunar eclipse in Virgo on the 3rd sheds light on what you need and how to ask for more of it from others.

Pisces
Mercury is retrograde in your sign, and you're feeling pulled in way too many directions. The lunar eclipse in Virgo, your opposite sign, on the 3rd finds you making a tough decision about who deserves your time. The end of one commitment brings on the beginning of another. It's time to embrace a new chapter.

Being in love is the most phenomenal thing ever felt by an individual. It is indeed a different feeling which cannot be expressed with words solely. This explains why many people have tried to define love in their own words and ways, but their attempts have failed to procure successful results. One of the successful methods of evaluating the love compatibility between two lovers is through Name Numerology. With the help of this astrological tool, the name of the boy and the girl are taken into consideration and according to the Chiero/Chaldean method of Numerology, compatibility is checked. Fill the names in the below calculator and find out your compatibility with your partner:

Enter your and your partner's name and know how compatible you are with your partner / love according to numerology.

Perception is a very vivid concept which is different for each and every human being living on the face of this planet. Your friend's way of expressing love might totally vary with yours, as all human beings possess vivid characteristics and emotions. Irrespective of this, the feeling of love takes one to cloud nine. If you are in love with someone, then you definitely want to spend the rest of your life with that person. But before you move forward to take your relationship to another level, it is very important to consider the most crucial determiner of your love life. Yes, the most important aspect of a relationship is 'compatibility'.

A love relationship thrives if compatibility is present in it. Futuristic goals are also achieved satisfactorily if you spend your life with a compatible person. Marriage to a wrong person can have dire repercussions. Various problems may take house in your familial life, as a result of which your children may also lose focus and direction in life. Not only this, sometimes the way of your success also goes through your life sweet relationship he/she has ever been into. With the assistance provided by numerology, one can keep a track of the conflicting situations taking place around him/her and find a way out. The impending disasters with respect to one's love life can also be avoided if the necessary precautions are taken before time runs out. One can also easily evaluate his/her lover and decide if it is better to let things go or hold onto them. Hence, using Numerology as a tool, one can find the right love match sharing a level of compatibility and stability.

As mentioned above, a number provides some commendable amount of information about your traits, personality, love, affection and compatibility. Now there are various terms in the field of numerology which are taken into account to arrive into necessary conclusions. Astrologers suggest three ways to use numerology to arrive into conclusions. Given below are those three ways which help the natives to procure important information about their lives.

Calculating the Moolank or Root Number: It is the number which is obtained by adding up the birth date of the native. For example, the Moolank or Root Number of people born on the dates 4,13, 22, 31 will be 4.

Calculating the Bhagyank or Destiny Number: The number which is obtained after adding up the month, date and day of birth of the native is known as Bhagyank or Destiny Number. For instance, if the birth date of an individual is 23-03-1995, then all the numbers are added up in order will create his/her Bhagyank or Destiny Number. Thus, 2+3+0+3+1+9+9+5 = 32 = 3+2 = 5 will be the Destiny Number. Astrologers at AstroSage also take this number into consideration in order to
